

Agriculture & Veterinary Store

In order to encourage and provide the local community with the necessary tools for agricultural practice, the Meto Project is to establish an agro-vet store in the village.

1. An ingenious idea for a salt lick - made from a truck tyre.

3. A donkey heavily laden with maize.

The store will not only provide much needed supplies for local farmers but will also provide a sustainable income for the local community.

4. A Maasai lady with her last year's maize crop. She needs the Agro-vet store because the maize is being destroyed by weevils.

2. A tick spraying pump and sump for the Maasai Rural Training Centre's cattle. This will sell certified crop seeds, farming tools and veterinary supplies to the community.

5. This is the building on site at Meto that will become the Agrovet store.
